M3M India appoints Surajit Banerjee as president–HR

Banerjee was earlier the senior vice president of human resources at DLF

NEW DELHI: Delhi-NCR based real estate developer M3M India has appointed Surajit Banerjee as the its new president of human resources.

Banerjee was earlier the senior vice president of human resources at DLF. He has also managed human capital in Spice Jet, Max Healthcare, Hindustan Lever, Reckitt Benckiser, Airtel, to name a few.

“We have young and dynamic talent on-board, I am sure that with him (Surajit Banerjee) in command we will have a more rewarding and vibrant workplace culture with high ethical standards and strong aspirations,” said Pankaj Bansal, Director, M3M Group.

His role entails leading the organization in encouraging progressive ‘people practices’ and creating a ‘hi-performing’ talent pool, organizational development through strategic people practices, building organizational capability around a competency framework, performance management and functional job analysis to serve business goals.

“With expanding footprints across the realty sector and a workplace brimming with young and dynamic talent, the organization presents newer and challenging opportunities almost every day. It is an invigorating experience in managing such an energetic workforce and developing organizational practices through relentless pursuit of business excellence,” said Banerjee.
